Dear friends,
GIVE ALL TO LOVE

Give all to love;
Obey thy heart;
Friends, kindred, days,
Estate, good-fame,
Plans, credit and the Muse, —
Nothing refuse.

,Tis a brave master;
Let it hzve scope:
Follow it utterly,
Hope beyond hope:
High and more high
It dives into noon,
With wing unspent,
Untold intent;
But it is a god,
Knows its own path
And the outlets of the sky.

It was never for the mean;
It requireth courage stout.
Souls above doubt,
Valor unbending,
It will reward, —
They shall return
More than they were,
And ever ascending.

Leave all for love;
Yet, hear me, yet,
One word more thy heart behoved,
One pulse more of firm endeavor, —
Keep thee to-day,
To-morrow, forever,
Free as an Arab
Of thy beloved.

Cling with life to the maid;
But when the surprise,
First vague shadow of sunrise
Flits across her bosom young,
Of a joy apart from thee,
Free be she, fancy free;
Nor thou detain her vesture's hem,
Nor the palest rose she flung
From her summer diadem.

Though thou loved her as thyself,
As a self of purer slay,
Though her parting dims the day,
Stealing grace from all alive;
Heartily know,
When half-gods go,
The gods arrive.

By Ralph Waldo Emerson

Yours truly

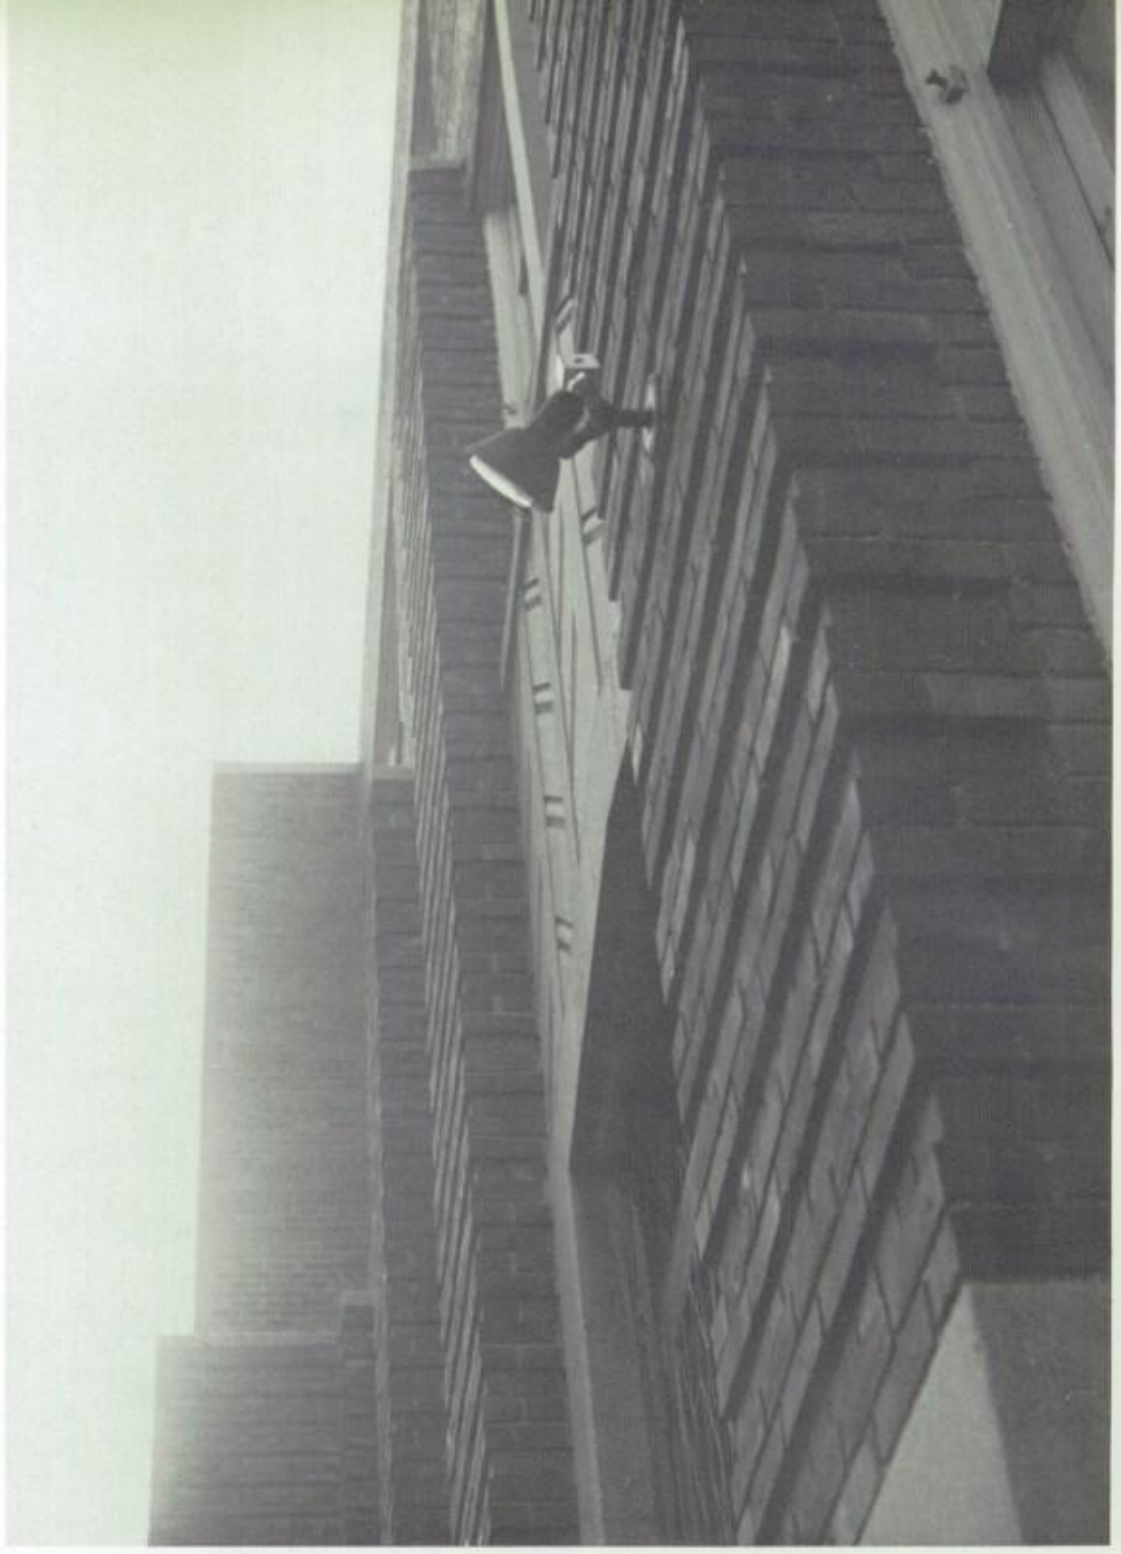
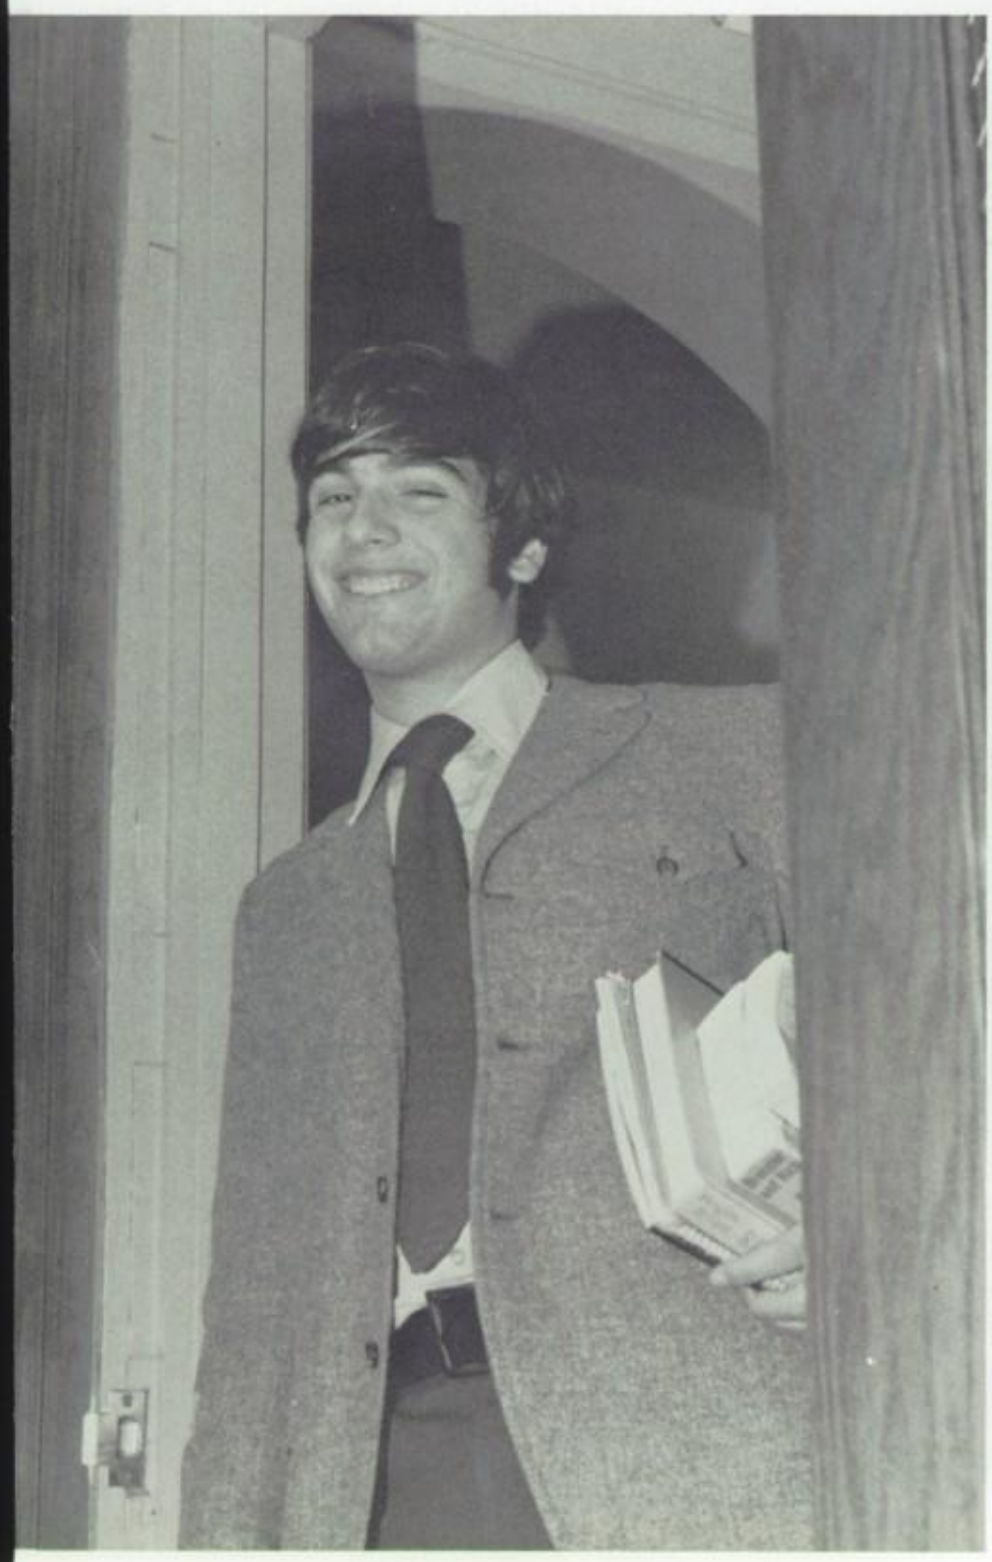
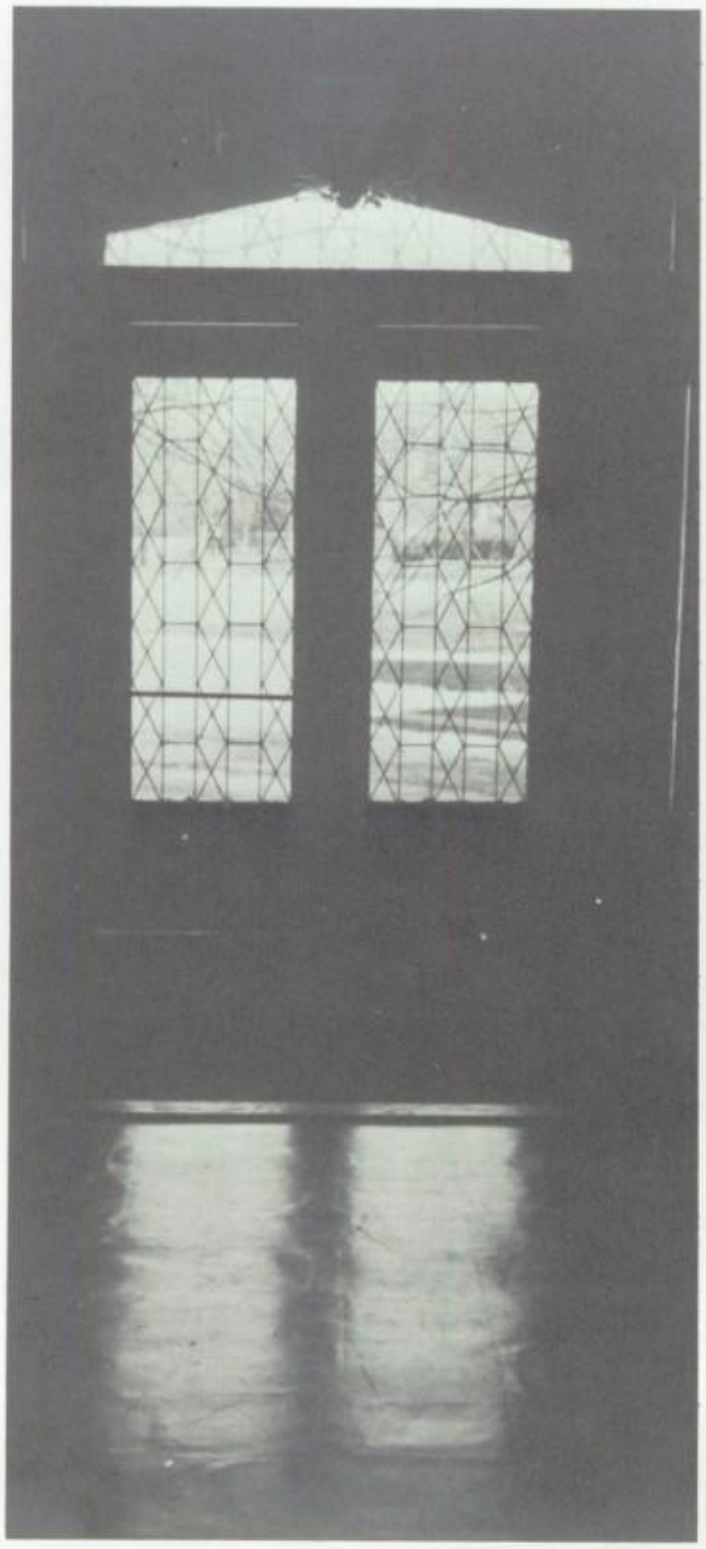
poem chosen by John Lagotta





It was not until 1862 that Lincoln signed the first important measure to aid higher education. Under the leadership of Jonathon Baldwin Turner, a farmer and college professor who interested Justice Smith Morrill, Senator from Vermont, a bill was introduced in 1857 to donate Federal lands for the establishment of colleges for instruction in agriculture and mechanics arts. The first bill was vetoed by Buchanan in 1859 but approved by Lincoln in 1862.



Education is a human activity. Its basic purpose is to help people fulfill their needs. It helps the individual in the process of "becoming". It helps a person define for himself who he is and where he is. People have differing interests, abilities and ambitions. The school encourages them to assume the responsibility of their own formation.

The school therefore by its choices of curriculum and by the totality of its services prepares the students for life; for their responsibilities to themselves, to God and to society; for further education; for professional life; and for marriage. Saint Peter's is a school which prepares its students for HERE and for HEREAFTER.

St. Peter's is a school where all will be joined in a search for truth in an atmosphere of honest inquiry; it is a world of ideas, an open school where no question is left unasked, no conclusion left unchallenged, no honest doubts left unexpressed.

priests

1. Rev. John Reilly

Pastor of St. Peter's parish

Father John Reilly attended Holy Name grammar school and Manhattan preparatory school in N.Y.C., graduating from Manhattan college in 1932.

He was ordained at St. Joseph's seminary, Dunwoody, N.Y. on May 22, 1937.

On January 26, 1946, he came to St. Peter's parish as an assistant to the pastor. Among his many duties at that time, was teaching social studies to St. Peter's freshmen boys. The freshmen attended school at the Richmond terrace address then.

He completed a two year course in pastoral life on June 1, 1966. Father Reilly became pastor in 1968, replacing Bishop Guilfoyle. He has been serving the parish with love and faithfulness ever since then, for which we gratefully thank him

2. Rev. Joseph M. Collins

Administrator of St. Peter's parish

Father Collins is a native of Staten Island and a graduate of St. Peter's high school for boys. He was ordained on April 17, 1948. He has served his priestly life at St. Michael's church in Mariners Harbor, Blessed Sacrament in Westerleigh and Our Lady Star of the Sea in Huguenot, coming to St. Peter's in January 1971.

We are grateful to you, Father Collins, for your ever renewed interest in our welfare

3. Rev. John F. Carson

Father Carson is a native of New Rochelle, New York.

He attended Holy Family grammar school, Blessed Sacrament high school and Iona college, all located in his home community. After graduation from Iona college, he studied at St. Joseph's seminary, Yonkers, New York. Father Carson was ordained on May 30, 1964 at St. Patrick's cathedral. He had assignments at St. Aloysius in Livingston manor, St. Margaret's in Pearl river, and St. Ann's in the Bronx. Father came to St. Peter's in June of 1968 and has been serving the parish with great loyality and devotion.

"If people bring so much courage to this world the world has to kill them to break them, so of course it kills them. The world breaks everyone and afterward many are strong in the broken places. But those that will not break it kills. It kills the very good and the very gentle and the very brave impartially. If you are none of these you can be sure it will kill you too but there will be no special hurry.

Thomas Jefferson thought his Bill for Establishing Religious Freedom was more important than his presidency of the United States. There was considerable support for government subsidy of a state religion.

Jefferson was appointed by the Virginia House of Delegates to draw up this revision of the laws, a ringing declaration of free faith.

"Well aware that the opinions and belief of men depend not on their own will but follow involuntarily the evidence proposed to their minds; that Almighty God both created the mind free and manifested his supreme will that free it shall remain by making it altogether unsusceptible of restraint . . . . . that our civil rights have no dependence on our religious opinions . . . that to compel a man to furnish contributions of money for propagation of opinions which he disbelieves and abhors, is sinful and tyrannical . . . that the opinions of men are not the object of civil government . . . that the truth is great and will prevail if it is left to itself . . .

We, the General Assembly of Virginia do enact that no man shall be compelled to frequent or support any religious worship . . ."

As a vital institution, St. Peter's carries on continuous innovation in its objectives. Stimulated by concern about its students' human and religious difficulties, it endeavors to develop attitudes of concerned Christians who care about difficult moral and social problems and try to do something about them.

Each department through its discipline involves its community of students into the larger community of life by bringing it into direct confrontation with the realities and problems of the modern world. This is done in the classroom, with the aid of audio-visuals and films, blackboards and textbooks, by simulating real situations and holding students responsible for their own decisions and actions

Rita Glynn

We are deeply saddened to announce that Rita Glynn, our school librarian, has passed away.

Mrs. Glynn had been a member of our faculty since 1957. Throughout the past 17 years, students and faculty alike were the recipients of her kind help and encouragement. Her warmth, her humor, her Christian willingness to help those at St. Peter's will be sorely missed.

English Thornton

Here! You sons of men
Who fought with Washington at Valley Forge,
And whipped Black Hawk at Starved Rock,
Arise! Do battle with the descendants of those Who bought land in the loop when it was waste sand,
And sold blankets and huns to the army of Grant.
And sat in legislatures in the early days,
Taking bribes from the railroads!
Arise! Do battle with the fops and bluffs,
The pretenders and figurantes of the society column,
And the Yokel souls whose daughters marry counts;
And parasites on great ideas,
And the noisy riders of great causes,
And the heirs of ancient thefts.
Arise! And make the city yours,
And the State yours —
You who are sons of the hardy yeomanry of the forties!
By God! If you do not destroy these vermin
My avenging ghost will wipe out
Your city and your state.

Tugged by opposing loyalties, people in the border states had an immediate necessity to decide which side to be on. Mrs. Abraham Lincoln's three brothers died for the south.

Experts argue in picking out the "typical" engagement in the Civil War. Gettysburg is a popular favorite as the last and deepest advance of the south.

The preparation of a cemetery at Gettysburg was initiated as a sanitary measure to bury cadavers of horses and men which littered the countryside. When it was in progress, the stature of the proceedings dawned upon the committee and they planned a grand dedicatory ceremony. A routine printed invitation was sent to President Lincoln as well as to hundreds of others. His acceptance produced a turmoil. Should they ask him to speak? Would his broad backwoods humor destroy the solemnity of the event. Protocol prevailed. The president was asked to deliver "a few appropriate remarks".

His address has become part of the universal language of liberty and human dignity.

Fourscore and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in Liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation or any nation, so conceived, and so dedicated, can long endure.

That we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation shall have a new birth of freedom; and that this government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Thomas Jefferson at the end of a day during which he had seen a planter abusing a slave while the planter's small son stood by wrote: —

"The whole commerce between master and slave is a perpetual exercise of the most boisterous passions, the most unremitting despotism on the one part and degrading submission on the other. Our children see this and learn to imitate it . . . The parent storms, the child looks on . . . and puts on the same airs in the circle of smaller slaves . . . And thus nursed, educated and daily exercised in tyranny, cannot but be stamped by it with odious peculiarities. The man must be a prodigy who can retain his manners and morals undepraved by such circumstances."

Horace Greeley, 1872 presidential candidate, was once fired because his boss wanted only "decent looking men in the office." As editor of the New York Tribune he espoused all kinds of causes including vegetarianism, spiritualism, land reform and antislavery. He committed himself on many issues and made many enemies.

He wrote so illegibly that one reporter used a dismissal note from him as a job recommendation. He was eccentric even to his backers. Greeley denounced Grant's corruption and was rewarded with pitiless attacks on his own personality and record. He was defeated in the election and before the end of the month was dead.

Abraham Lincoln in his famous letter of August 22, 1862 to Horace Greeley, editor of the New York Tribune:

"My paramount object in this struggle is to save the Union, and it is not either to save or destroy slavery. If I could save the Union without freeing any slave, I would do it; and if I could save it by freeing all the slaves, I would do it; and if I could save it by freeing some and leaving others alone, I would also do it."

On September 22, he issued the Proclamation of Emancipation.

"On the first day of January in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three all persons held as slaves within any state . . . shall be then, thenceforward, and forever free . . ."

Heritage of Freedom, The History and Significance of the Basic Documents of American Liberty by Frank Monaghan p. 64

"Before the year 1765, we find this country, not one American people, but many American peoples . . . No cohesive principle prevailed, no centralizing life; each little nation was working out its own destiny in its own fashion. With that year the colonial isolation came to an end. We must thereafter deal with the literature of one multitudinous people, variegated, indeed, in personal traits, but single in its commanding ideas and in its national destinies."

Fort Wadsworth

As its discoverer in 1524, Verrazano observed the surrounding terrain and called it Angoleme. Upon this high ground Lenape Indians gazed down on Hudson's Half Moon as it sailed through the narrows in 1609. In 1636, the Dutch erected the first block house, destroyed by Indians in 1655 and rebuilt in 1668, one year before the Duke of York's men took possession of the territory. The British enlarged the fort and maintained control of the entire area until their departure in 1783, firing in this direction what may have been the last shot of the Revolutionary War.

Junior Varsity

Mr. Ruppert's J.V. basketball team showed once again this year that a team working together with team spirit can come out on top. Mr. Ruppert's little eagles led by John Muccino, John Fitzgerald, Bruce Morrison, Rich Caridi, George Marino put them on the road to success.

After two months of grinding road work, the St. Peters Cross Country Team was ready for any hill or cow-path. During the X-C season St. Peters enjoyed many top team finishes, on the Island, in the City and Up-State. Mike O'Donnell, Brian Swenson, Rich McGowan and junior, Scott Smith provided the back bone for the Varsity Squad while Vin Cafiero, Pat Danna, Steve Miles and Dan Kenny did the same for the junior-varsity team. By the end of X-C St. Peters had a very successful campaign, looking forward to a even better indoor-outdoor season.

The St. Peters baseball team plays in two leagues during the spring semester. The season starts in April. There are nine teams in the SIHSL and nine in the BDCHSAA which we play twice each. St. Peters came in second in the Brooklyn league (qualifying them for the play-offs) and fifth in the SIHSL which was better than we had anticipated. We were eliminated in the first round of the play-offs. Peter August was voted M.V.P. and also received an honorable mention in the Advance All-Stars. Arnold Roese and Robert Malvagna also had hot bats and gloves for the eagles. Coach Ruppert did a great job.

St. Peter's High School won the following team championships: Annual Iona College invitational tournament (Jan.1975) (This was last won by a Christian brothers school in 1955 when Homburg played for Bishop Loughlin)
Annual Fordham university invitational tournament (May, 1975) The Staten Island private high school league (May, 1975). The Staten Island Interscholastic tennis championships (June 1975)

(St. Peter's won the singles and doubles boys competition)

Placement in the tournament

singles
1. Hector Munoz (Finalist)
2. Dan Corley

doubles
1. Hector Munoz – Neil Keating (Finalists)
2. Dan Corley – Jack Whalen

The coach of Tottenville High School refused to play St. Peter's high school the standard three singles and two doubles matches that each school played during their league competitions in the tennis season. As a result, there never was an island championship proclaimed. The results of the Interscholastic competition were very gratifying as the eagles dominated the boys varsity activity.

Individual Accomplishments:
Hector Munoz won the following championships
The C.H.S.A.A. (Sept., 1974)
The F.U.I.C.C. (May, 1975)

(Hector was undefeated in dual matches in '74 and '75 and #1 singles player in ten matches in '74 and eight in '75. The advance described him as "unbeaten, untied and virtually unthreatened.") The boys received scholarships as a result of their play.

"If you lose all the battles, but, win the war, you come out ahead of all the others."

The St. Peter's Hockey Club, in its first year at St. Peter's would like to thank all those responsible for making the club a reality. In particular, our special thanks to Mr. Costello, our moderator, Mr. Ray Walters and Mr. Louis Fiori who devoted their time and energy to coaching us.

That we lost all the games we played was nothing to be ashamed of, for we actually lost nothing because the P.S.A.L., which governs the public schools would not sanction the sport for this year and since five out of seven schools participating were public schools, the season was officially called a scrimmage schedule and there was no first, second or last place to be had.

The most important fact remains, St. Peter's overcame the many obstacles in our path and put up the best we had in true St. Peter's spirit.

Here I would like to thank those who helped me with my huge task of organizing and running the club, particularly Steve Walters and Dan Herlihy.

To those who will remain here at St. Peter's, good luck.

This year's intramural bowling team, under the supervision and direction of Brother Raymond Buck and Al Cardone, proved through their combined efforts in sportsmanship bowling, that they can bowl against each other effectively and have a great time doing it.

The team has been organized to bowl intramurally, but by proving their aggressiveness, they hope to compete against other schools in the coming year.

The story of King Arthur began in the sixth century with a real live king, and its message has been cherished, added to and recreated by the English people up to the present time. The "matter of England", king Arthur's legend, carries in it the idealism and fruition of the concept of romantic courtly love which has inspired western civilization since its inception and is periodically renewed by visionaries who look to the past for answers in the present and the future.

St. Peter's girls joined the boys on stage and behind the scenes to create a beautiful pageant filled with attractive people who cared about each other, the stage and their schools. Those who became involved found the experience to be more and better than they had bargained for. Gratitude to Mr. Lesch abounded and feelings for brother Robert increased because of his work, attention and interest. Mrs. Cunningham's costumes were a tremendous effort and success and the women, students & teachers who helped on the nights of performance made for a smooth and unflawed production. Those who worked in the business office managed an advertising campaign to rival any that Madison avenue could conceive. Mr. Delisio's Playbill ads and Mr. Fodera's car sales showed excellent profits. As one boy said, "We will always remember being a part of this." Participation is exhilerating.

Each evening from December to December
Before you drift to sleep upon your cot,
Think back on all the tales that you remember,

And tell it strong and clear if he has not:
That once there was a fleeting wisp of glory
Called Camelot.

Camelot! Camelot!
Now say it out with love and joy!

Arthur Battle? I've won my battle, Pelly. Here's my victory! What we did will be remembered. You'll see Pelly. Now run, Sir Tom! Behind the lines.
Pellinore Who is that, Arthur?

The AMERICAN Crisis
These are the times that try men's souls: The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will in this crisis, shrink from the service of his country; but he that stands it now, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman. Tyranny like hell, is not easily conquered; yet we have this consolation with us, that the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph. What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly; 'tis dearness only that gives everything its value. Heaven knows how to put a proper price upon its goods; and it would be strange indeed, if so celestial an article as freedom should not be highly rated. Britain with an army to enforce her tyranny, has declared that she has the right (not only to TAX, but) "to bind us in all cases whatsoever," and if being bound in that manner is not slavery, then is there not such a thing as slavery upon earth. Even the expression is impious, for as unlimited as power can belong only to GOD. Whether the independence

national honor society

Eligibility for membership depends upon: character, scholarship, leadership and service.

A junior or senior must have maintained an 85% average throughout his high school career. With regard to character; he must be recommended by his pastor and/or teacher and approved by a faculty committee consisting of the dean, guidance and homeroom teacher. He must also be approved by the principal.

Leadership and service are determined by means of a point system.

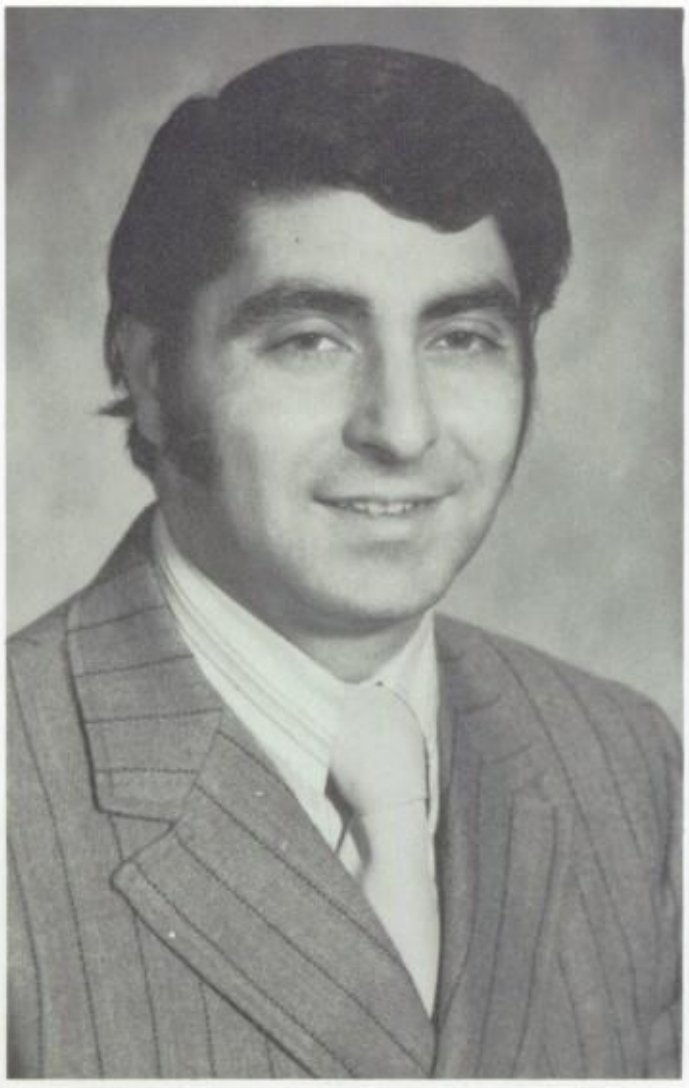
dedication



John Delisio, We dedicate this yearbook to you. Class of '75

Although the teaching staff of Saint Peter's is just about the greatest and impossible to match anywhere, there is one teacher whom the graduating class of 1975 would like to single out for special tribute, Mr. John Delisio.

We who have known him, love Mr. "D" for his personal qualities; his relaxed manner, his caring, his teaching characteristics. Mr. Delisio will find the time to be human, to speak to students about what is on their minds and help them cope.

He teaches business Law, Accounting, Mathematics, and Driver Education. Beyond this he also prepares the Playbill for the spring production. This activity increases the schools profits considerably and facilitates in the continued operation of the school.

We are proud to be students of St. Peter's. The past four years have been enjoyable for most of us. Knowing Mr. Delisio has made them more enjoyable.

Speaking for the seniors of 1975, we would like to make it known that by student poll we have chosen you, Mr. Delisio, as our kind of guy. Thank you for everything. Our gratitude and blessings go with you.

island ferry

The need for improved transportation between Staten Island and New York brought about the first ferry system around 1865–1870. The seats were uncomfortable, the boats badly ventilated and badly lighted. A disaster occurred on the ferryboat Westifield which caused the company to close. The boat blew up as a result of a boiler explosion with four hundred passengers aboard. Nearly one hundred lives were lost.

In 1905 the city revived the system. Today, carrying thousands of commuters to business in the city daily, it enjoys the reputation of offering the best five cent water trip in the world.

A Different Drummer

Why should we be in such desperate haste to succeed, and in such
desperate enterprises?
If a man does not keep pace
with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears
a different drummer.
Let him step to the music which he hears however measured or far away.

sailor snug harbor

Sailors Snug Harbor was incorporated in 1806. In 1828 one hundred and forty five acres were purchased on Staten Island to build the home for retired merchant seamen. Erected in 1831, it was dedicated to Robert Richard Randall, himself a sailor, who had left Mintoe's farm between 8th and 9th streets in New York city and the rents therefrom to support the harbor. In order to qualify for residence a merchant seaman needed documents to prove that he had been on the sea for ten years and was now worn out and decrepit.

Alexander Hamilton with Daniel Tompkins framed the will of Robert Randall in the form of a trust in which the state of New York was named trustee. The trustees consisted of:

- Mayor of the city of New York
- Recorder of the city of New York
- President of the N.Y. chamber of commerce
- Senior Episcopal minister of the state of N.Y.
- Senior Presbyterian minister of the state of N.Y.

Sailors Snug Harbor continued under a private charter and received no state or federal funds.

At the present time, the complex has been vacated of seamen and plans are in progress to make it a cultural arts center.

There is the caw of the crow,
And hesitant song of a thrush.
There is the tinkle of a cowbell far away,
And the voice of a plowman on Shipley's hill.
The forest beyond the orchard is still with midsummer stillness;
And along the road a wagon chuckles,
Loaded with corn, going to Atterbury.
And an old man sits under a tree asleep,
And an old woman crosses the road,
Coming from the orchard with a bucket of blackberries
And a boy lies in the grass
Near the feet of the old man,
And looks up at the sailing clouds,
And longs, and longs, and longs
For what he knows not:
For manhood, for life, for the unknown world!
Ten thirty years passed
And the boy returned worn out by life
And found the orchard vanished,
And the forest gone,
And the house made over,
And the roadway filled with dust from automobiles —
And himself desiring The Hill!

A Ballad of Trees and the Master

Into the woods my Master went,
Clean forspent, forspent.
Into the woods my Master came,
Forspent with love and shame.
But the olives were not blind to Him
The little gray leaves were kind to Him.
The thorn-tree had a mind to Him
When into the woods He came.

Out of the woods my Master went,
And He was well content,
Out of the woods my Master came,
Content with death and shame.
When Death and Shame would woo Him last.
From under the trees they drew Him last:
'Twas on a tree they slew Him — last
When out of the woods He came.
